Google Cloud Big Data Platform

Integrated, NoOps cloud data platform for building scalable, secure and reliable data-driven applications that transform businesses and user experiences.

It provides faster time-to-value, real-time applications, access to innovation including machine learning, and completeness.